Inaugural Attains Top Speed Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The celebrating for President Johnson's inaugural hits top speed today, and anyone with enough energy — and enough tickets — can keep partying until late at night.

With luncheons, receptions, dinner dances and an inaugural concert by the National Symphony, there isn't an open moment on the schedule.

Almost everything, including the weather, seems set for the whole point of this business: the taking of the presidential oath in front of the Capitol at noon Wednesday. Only the inaugural address remains unfinished, and Johnson is expected to keep putting it off until a few hours before delivery time.

Cold Day Predicted

On that most important item, the weather, Johnson's luck appears to be holding out.

After hinting that it might snow on Johnson's great day, the weatherman backtracked and now sticks to the prediction that none is likely to fall. But the bitter cold will remain, making it rough on those who are in, or who are out watching, the 2½-hour parade.

Today's highlights include a reception for Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey, a reception for governors that will be so crowded the guests will be herded in three hourly shifts, and a dance and reception for Young Democrats.

An ardent Democrat, eager to fling, could have trouble deciding where to go.

All Sold Out

A young party member from Indiana, for example, could take in the dance for Young Democrats, or go to his own state's inaugural ball, or drop by for the National Symphony's special concert. All three, and a half dozen other events, are running more or less simultaneously tonight.

Nearly everything to which the public is invited, by the way, has been sold out.

It is not known for certain how many events Johnson will attend.

Monday he got things off to a rousing start by joining in the fun at the Democratic gala, honoring party workers who helped keep Johnson in the White House.

The star-packed performance lasted more than two hours and the Johnsons appeared to enjoy every minute of it. They applauded loud and long during the show which was capped by a final chorus of "Hello Lyndon" by the entire cast.

Mrs. Johnson had done her bit earlier. She and Mrs. Humphrey had presided at a reception for distinguished ladies. They greeted about 5,000 women in the fountain courts of the National Gallery of Art—shaking hands and kissing old friends. Humphrey dropped by and shook hands for half an hour.

South Viet Nam Post Rejected By Key General

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Tran Van Huong's attempt to strengthen his Cabinet with military members appeared to have misfired today as a key general turned down the post offered him.

Another political crisis may be imminent. A U.S. spokesman had expressed approval Monday of the Cabinet reshuffle, terming it a "positive and helpful step toward stable government."

The swearing in today of Huong's new Cabinet, to which he named four generals, was canceled after Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky reportedly declined the new post of minister of youth and sports.

Ky reportedly wants to retain command of the air force, which gives him pivotal influence in the maneuvering for power that is continuous among South Viet Nam's military.

Warm Reception Given 49-Billion Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has given President Johnson's $49-billion defense program a generally warm reception.

Some Democrats and Republicans, however, expressed misgivings on the lack of plans for new manned bombers.

Shortly after the message went to Congress Monday, the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate Defense Appropriations subcommittee announced plans to invite Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to joint hearings, probably early in February.

Family Of Six Perishes In Fire

MORRISVILLE, Vt. (AP) — A young couple and their four daughters died early today in a fire that swept their 1½-story frame house.

The six members of the Theodore F. Corey Jr. family were dead before fire fighters arrived.

The flames and heavy smoke prevented neighbors from helping the family.

The victims: Corey, 25; his wife, Mary, 24; and their daughters, Anna Marie, 5; Beverly, 3; Mary, 2; and Betty Jean, 1. Authorities said the fire was discovered about 1:30 a.m. There was no immediate indication of the cause.

Romney Advises Saving Most Of State Surplus

Johnsons Seen At 3 Events Monday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson kept his calendar free of announced appointments today and, in the process, kept everyone guessing about his pre-inaugural plans for the day.

There was no word, for example, about whether Johnson would attend this evening's inaugural concert in Constitution Hall. The only certainty seemed to be that he would do more work on his inaugural address.

Apart from the concert, to feature such artists as pianist Van Cliburn and violinist Isaac Stern, the day's festivities generally were confined to receptions and parties starting in midafternoon.

No Poverty

The President and wife Lady Bird, she shimmering in a white gown with silver-jeweled bodice, made appearances at three events Monday night and didn't get home until midnight.

Before going to a Broadway-style inaugural gala, they made brief stops at two banquets attended by people who contributed a minimum of $1,000 to the Democratic cause in the 1964 election year.

Looking over one of these well-bankrolled audiences, Johnson joked: "This was supposed to be the first poverty inspection trip of 1965 but somehow it just didn't work out that way."

He went on to suggest that some of the diners might feel at least a little impoverished after paying the bills for their wives' gowns.

Armory Looks Festive

Then, sounding like the campaigner of last autumn, Johnson turned serious and urged employers and employees, farmers, ranchers and bankers to get under one big tent and work for his "Great Society" programs "in the sun of this bright age."

It may have been a preview of his inaugural address. Arriving for the gala in the National Guard Armory, a barnlike place that somehow was made to look festive, the Johnsons and their daughters, Lynda and Luci, waited a half hour in an anteroom while latecomers filed into their seats.

Once started, the show lasted a couple of hours. Johnson applauded throughout and stopped afterwards for some handshaking with the cast. He didn't make a speech; just stood up with Lady Bird and acknowledged the cheering when he was introduced after the finale.

Billie Sol Estes Put Behind Bars

Romneys Spend Two Busy Days In Washington

LANSING (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. George Romney left Monday night for two full days of inauguration activities in Washington.

The governor's formal schedule includes a string of receptions and the inaugural church service, parade and ball.

In between he's expected to confer with other Republican leaders on the state of the party's rebuilding effort—particularly those aspects initiated by Romney and other Republican governors last December in Denver.

The schedule:

8:15 a.m.—Breakfast with Michigan Congressional delegation honoring House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Grand Rapids.

3 p.m.—Governors' reception, and three receptions including that of Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag for Vice-President elect Hubert Humphrey.

Wednesday

8:15 a.m.—Inaugural church service, National City Christian Church.

11:30 a.m.—Inaugural ceremony.

1:30 p.m.—Inaugural parade, presidential reviewing stand.

9 p.m.—Inaugural Ball.

Thursday

10:30 a.m.—Leave Washington for Lansing.

Vacation Flight To Florida Ends In Plane Crash

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—A Michigan man, making his 13th pleasure flight to Clearwater, Fla., crash-landed his single-engine plane Monday in a snow-covered field near Manchester.

E.W. Moore, an electrical contractor from St. Clair, Mich., said his gas line or carburetor froze. The gas tank was half-filled when he landed.

Moore apparently was unharmed but he estimated damage to the plane at several thousand dollars.

Rising Costs Anticipated In 1965-66 Year

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney will recommend that Michigan retain about $75 million of its treasury surplus during the coming fiscal year, The Associated Press learned.

Romney will make his budget recommendations for 1965-66 in a written message scheduled to reach the legislature Feb. 2.

He will peg the anticipated surplus as of next June 30 in the broad area around $100 million. He'll recommend saving about three-fourths of it to take care of rising state costs anticipated for 1966-67.

The governor said in his state of the state message last Thursday that only "the most prudent use of this surplus" will enable it to last through the next two fiscal years without additional taxes or state debt.

Legislators Want Spending

Democrats said last month the surplus would be at $90 million to $100 million by next June. Until preparing his budget message, Romney never had cited an anticipated end-of-year surplus figure.

His latest economic figures and indicators bear out Democratic predictions.

Democrats, with strong majorities in both houses of the legislature, are expected to press for more use of the surplus than Romney desires, to finance improved state aid for education and perhaps programs in fields such as mental health and senior citizens' benefits.

In his state of the state address, the governor warned that built-in costs of government are increasing $12 million a year faster than revenues.

Tax Reform Sighted

These costs are those which increase because of population growth and related factors even though a program is not changed. Each new school pupil, for example, costs the state a base of $236.50 annually.

In two years, this growth deficit would be twice what it would be next fiscal year even if no programs are changed. But both Romney and the Democrats are recommending measures certain to cost more money.

Fiscal reform could be the "out," however, if most of the surplus is tagged for use this coming year.

Romney said that such reform will be needed in any event by 1967 when he expects the surplus to run out. He said he's ready to tackle the question "any time it appears there is a reasonable chance of success."

The governor's aides and advisors are working on the text of his budget message. Plans are that Romney will not deliver the message himself—it will be read by clerks on Feb. 2.

Erhard Confers With de Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard arrived in Paris today for talks with President Charles de Gaulle on European unity, German reunification and nuclear defense.

The two-day talks are being held at De Gaulle's official country home at Rambouillet, 30 miles south of Paris. While the chancellor and the president meet there, Foreign Ministers Gerhard Schroeder and Maurice Couve de Murville are meeting in Paris.

Schroeder, who was not invited to Rambouillet, is considered by the French to be close to the "Anglo-Saxons," as De Gaulle calls the Americans and British. The last time Schroeder was in Paris he had a row with the French over German reunification.

This time, Erhard would like to obtain De Gaulle's backing for a new Allied approach to the Russians on German reunification. Such an initiative would help the chancellor in the West German general election in September.

Soviet Nations Open Summit Policy Meeting

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The rulers of the Soviet Union and six East European satellites opened a summit conference today that may frame new policy on European questions.

Western diplomats in Warsaw said major new overtures to the West could result. They said the Communist leaders may agree to expand East-West contacts, reduce pressure on West Berlin and withdraw some Soviet troops from Communist East Germany.

The Warsaw Pact's political advisory committee met in the Polish Council of Ministers building, the former Radziwill Palace. It was attended by the Communist party chiefs, premiers, foreign ministers and defense ministers of the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Churchill Has Restless Night

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's doctor said just before noon — 7 a.m. EST — today there had been no further deterioration in the former prime minister's condition.

Churchill's physician, Lord Moran, said he would issue another medical bulletin about 9 p.m. — 4 p.m. EST.

Lord Moran had been called to Churchill's bedside at 2:10 a.m. and spent five hours there. He reported shortly after 7 a.m. that Churchill had spent a very restless night and his condition had deteriorated.

At 11:45 a.m., the 82-year-old physician issued this bulletin after another visit to his patient:

"In the four hours since the last bulletin, there has been no further deterioration."

A spokesman for the British Medical Association had said after the early morning bulletin that he thought "for the next two days things would deteriorate rapidly."

Moran's midday bulletin was the 10th issued since the 90-year-old statesman suffered a stroke last Friday. None has reported any improvement, and most have told of a gradual slackening of Sir Winston's hold on life.

With death apparently drawing near for the great wartime leader, political leaders began canceling normal activities.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson postponed a statement to the House of Commons and a telecast tonight on the nation's trade situation. He was reported seeking to put off a visit to West Germany Thursday.

Churchill's Conservative party called off a telecast Wednesday. The House of Commons postponed until June the scheduled Wednesday celebration of the 700th anniversary of Simon de Montfort's Parliament, from which British democracy grew.

Queen Elizabeth II returned to London from her Christmas vacation at Sandringham.

Lord Avon, who as Sir Anthony Eden was Churchill's chief deputy for 15 years and his successor as prime minister in 1955, cut short a vacation in Barbados and arrived in London with his wife, Sir Winston is Lady Avon's uncle.

Boat Blown Into Window Of Home At Marquette

MARQUETTE (AP)—Winds fusted up over 35 miles an hour during a winter storm here. And at Thomas Bannon's house atop a hill it was even windier.

He said he "heard a noise" at the height of the storm. Bannon looked out and saw that his 14-foot aluminum boat had disappeared from its storage spot on the front porch.

Ross Todd, who lived at the foot of the hill, also "heard a noise."

It was Bannon's boat, coming in a dining room window.

No one was hurt.

Community Thanks

The Escanaba community is having occasion to say "Thank You" to several persons retiring, moving from the city, or being honored.

The Escanaba Kiwanis Club and Chamber of Commerce honored Clarence Zerbel, who is retiring as business manager of the Escanaba Area Public Schools on Jan. 31, for his services to the club, to the school system and to the community. He has been associated with the Escanaba schools for more than 38 years and helped them grow in quality and merge into the much larger consolidated system of today which embraces three suburban townships as well as the City of Escanaba.

He taught chemistry at Escanaba High starting in 1926, became principal of the new Junior High School in 1931 and is remembered by a generation of Escanaba youth for his work with the Boy Scouts, a labor so distinguished that it brought him award of the Silver Beaver, highest honor for leadership in Scouting, in which he served as chairman of the Red Buck District.

In 1959 he became business manager of the new Escanaba Area School District, a job of special importance because of the difficulties attending any consolidation of such size. Here his influence was less direct upon the youth of the community than it had been in his teaching years and as an administrator and a Scoutmaster, but his service to the community continued at an important level.

His children are grown and wed and he's a grandfather now and has earned the honorable retirement he starts now with a winter with Mrs. Zerbel in California.

Harry Courtright has resigned as librarian of the Escanaba Carnegie Library to accept a position as director of the Kellogg Library's extension system at Green Bay, Wis.

Courtright has been good for us. He has been stimulating as director of the Escanaba Library in a time when library services are changing drastically. The good librarian is no longer a venerable lady with a head bulging with book titles, but a person who seeks maximum usage of the library's resources to serve the knowledge explosion and the huge new needs for information and stimulation.

Courtright has been a leader in the creation of the new library federation in which Delta's Gladstone and Escanaba libraries are associated with the public libraries of Schoolcraft, Dickinson and Menominee counties. He upgraded the children's department of the Escanaba Library and he rearranged the library to accommodate its increased stocks of books without building an addition.

More important than any of these impressive achievements, probably, is his basic alertness and spirit, which gave the library a continued devotion to change and improvement.

Russell Johnson has left us to take a post with the State Health Department at Lansing. He has been the department's sanitation engineer in the Upper Peninsula for the past 16 years and a good one.

Because of his devotion and abilities, the U.P. has moved along with the rest of Michigan in sanitation as it falls within the jurisdiction of the State Health Department. He has been unusually alert in the matter of public relations, so that the public has been impressed in his years as never before with the importance of training water works personnel and the other guardians of our public health.

He has attended this important work of public information so faithfully that there's a new state of public values on the subject. Along with all this he's been a fine citizen. Ill health made him give up the sailing yacht he loved so much and restrict his activities, but his devotion to his work was unchanged.

The Delta County Historical Society honored A. Theodore Solberg of Brampton and Gladstone at its annual dinner for his contributions to the Society. Why the Society, devoted in its volunteer work to the creation and preservation of Delta County's heritage of history, should honor Solberg becomes clear in his response to the honor.

His participation in the Society's work, he said "is in payment for a debt that I owe to the people of Delta County." What a splendid concept of citizenship!

His family, he explained, came to the county when it was still "in a pioneering era. The people who were here before us had built schools and churches. They opened their doors and their hearts to us. We owe them much."

What a change from the concept sometimes expressed in school tax elections that "We've made our contribution and raised our children."

The Family Lawyer

Grounds for Divorce: "Cruelty" Oliver Wendell Holmes once said:

"A word is not a crystal, transparent and unchanged, it is the skin of a living thought and may vary greatly in color and content according to the circumstances and the time in which it is used."

Consider the word "cruelty," heard so often in the field of divorce, suggests The American Bar Association. Cruelty is a ground for divorce in most states (and for all people who journey to those states in quest of their marital freedom). Statistically, it is the nation's No. 1 matrimonial complaint.

What kind of cruelty will justify a divorce? Statutes may give some guidance with adjectives like "extreme" or "repeated" or "intolerable." Dictionaries supply general definitions: legal precedents offer analogies. But, besides all that, the courts must probe for the living thought that dwells within the word cruelty itself. In this particular family, to this particular man or woman, what is cruel?

In one case, a teen-age husband was held not guilty of cruelty toward his teen-age wife, even though he had spanked her on several occasions. The court pointed out that their tiffs were brief, were as much her fault as his, and were invariably followed by kisses of forgiveness.

Under these circumstances, the judge said he could discern nothing worse than "childish outbursts of temper which do not seem to have been taken very seriously and were soon forgotten."

But in another case, the court found cruel and inhuman treatment not in a husband's blows but in his sheer relentless unkindness. Noting that the wife was a woman of refinement, the court said:

"We know of people who live happily in the northland, mid snow and ice and bitter cold. These conditions do not imperil their lives because they are hardened to them. Yet to one brought up in the warmth of the southland, the conditions of the northland are intolerable, and under their chilling influence they fade away and die. So it is with life in the home. A woman reared in the atmosphere of love and trust and confidence pines away when transplanted into an atmosphere pregnant with curses, suspicion, and neglect."

For, in this most intimate of all human relationships, the law cannot be rigid. It is not measuring the speed of a car or the angle of a bullet. It is measuring the depth of a troubled person's anguish.

The earth's crust is estimated to be about 5 million years old.

"Now If I Can Just Find a Team!"

U.N. Headache

By BRUCE BISSAT
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) — Amid the dangers which beset the United Nations, many practical diplomats are struggling quietly to reshape it into an instrument more fitting to the altered times.

One shift of consequence already is under way. Others are merely proposed or are just approved and, important though they be, a few of these propositions lie nearly buried beneath tons of dry U. N. verbiage.

What the reshapers really are driving at is a kind of United Nations reappointment.

The central fact underlying the proposals for change is this: The engulfing numbers of new African and Asian member states have thrown the U. N. "out of phase," giving these lands a voice and a General Assembly vote (recommending only) far beyond their responsibility for executing and financing vital U. N. action.

Sturdy diplomatic friends of the agency believe that if it is not soon "reappointed" to bring power and responsibility into close bond, the United Nations may truly become a futile debating society in the important arenas of peace-keeping and economic development.

Specialists in U. N. affairs hope to contend, however, that the world body already has instituted one highly significant change. The 11-member Security Council, once discredited as totally hamstrung by the Soviet veto, had its busiest year in 1964 since 1948.

Last year the Security Council met 105 times, roughly once every three days. Only in the 1947-48 crisis over Palestine was it ever busier.

U. S. officials say the 1964 step-up in council activity represents a natural swing of the pendulum away from the swelling assembly and back to the agency's real power center — dominated as it is by the great nations.

Not since the Lebanese crisis in 1959, it should be noted, has Russia used its council veto to block a peace-keeping operation.

The hottest new proposal under U. N. consideration at this critical crossroads is for creation of a standing special finance committee to recommend General Assembly outlays for peacekeeping. It would act in this field only if the Security Council failed.

This finance body would include all council members and, according to one working paper, a "relatively high percentage of those member states in each geographical area that are large financial contributors to the United Nations."

The intent is clear: to get around roadblocks of the sort Russia currently is erecting in the U. N.'s path, and at the same time avoid commitments arrived at by irresponsible force of numbers in the General Assembly.

As a sort of halfway station between the assembly and the council, diplomats here think the proposition has a fair chance of approval. Russia, of course, wants council control of peace outlays.

The economic development stands second to peace-keeping today as a U. N. function. In December, the U. N. made permanent — on a triennial meeting basis — the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development.

Most important, perhaps, is the fact that on its 55-member board a high proportion of the 20 countries with 80 per cent of the world's trade will have a place.

And, quietly, a special U. N. committee met for a month last fall to work up proposals for "conciliation committees" whose task would be — upon special call by a handful of nations — to harmonize plans, trade and aid policies and other matters affecting the developing countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America.

This is the pragmatic U. N. diplomat's answer to militant Africans and Asians whose often unrealistic economic demands and symbolic posturings can only outrage the advanced nations whose help they need.

These proposals and some lesser ones, plus the new Security Council emphasis, represents the crucial yet unheralded program of the U. N.'s determined advocates to bring it into tune with the problems and the shifting power realities of 1965.

Edgar A. Holt, president of the Michigan State Conference of NAACP Branches, said Megdell, head of Yankee Distributors, Inc., has been a victim of "personal and public harassment" by telephone callers. Yankee Distributors, a merchandising company, began its boycott Jan. 4.

Megdell, whose firm operates stores in Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Lansing, East Lansing, Albion, Midland and Mount Pleasant, said he took the action because of the "ugly racial situation" in Mississippi.

Holt said Megdell also had been criticized on phone-in programs of Flint-area radio stations and had received letters from Mississippians who threatened to retaliate with a boycott against Buick autos, made exclusively in Flint.

No Threat To Health

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q—Our son had to pay an extra premium for insurance because of albumin in the urine, but our own doctor didn't find any albumin. Does this condition vary from time to time? Is there any treatment?

A—Albumin may be found in the urine of persons with nephritis (Bright's disease), heart disease with waterlogging, leukemia, purpura, scurvy and poisoning with mercury, lead, turpentine and other chemicals.

Although in these conditions albumin in the urine is usually persistent, it will clear up when the cause is removed. There is another condition, called "orthostatic albuminuria," or proteinuria, which affects about 75 per cent of young men in their late teens and early 20s.

In such men a specimen taken immediately on arising in the morning will not show albumin. After being up and around for several hours, especially in a standing rather than sitting position, albumin will appear. This is most pronounced in persons with a forward curvature of the spine.

This condition is not threat to health, but insurance companies go to great lengths to be on the safe side. Q—In a recent column you stated that exposure to ultraviolet light would damage the eyes. I have worked under such a light for nearly 30 years without any eye damage. How do you explain that?

A—There are four general types of UV lamp: those that give a suntan but do not produce ozone, black lamps for visibility at night which likewise produce no ozone, germ-killing lamps which produce varying amounts of ozone depending on their wattage, and ozone bulbs which produce large amounts of ozone.

When the ozone-producing lamps are used it is necessary to protect the eyes from their rays at all times. These lamps give out ultraviolet light of short wave lengths. UV rays of long wave lengths (3,000 to 4,000 Angstrom units) become less and less injurious to the skin and eyes as the wave length increases.

I assume that this is the type of light under which you have been working. As stated in my previous column, the manufacturer usually prints warnings about improper use of his lamps. These warnings should be heeded.

Q—Do women as well as men get linitis plastica? Does it attack the outside or the inside of the stomach? Is it hereditary?

A—Linitis plastica is a cancer that can affect both sexes. It involves the inner wall of the stomach; it progresses very slowly; it is not hereditary.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Ann Landers

Profanity Habit Hard To Break

Dear Ann Landers: What does an intelligent, successful man think he is proving when he swears every time he opens his mouth?

Every day we see and hear intelligent and successful men on TV and radio who don't have to swear to get a point across.

My husband can't complete a sentence without putting a curse word in somewhere. Our daughters have asked him to please watch his language when guests are in the house, but it doesn't do any good.

I've never heard the neighbors' husbands swearing up a storm in the yard, but they've heard mine at least a dozen times this past summer.

Why does he do it and what can I do to get him to stop?

—MRS. M.

Dear M.: People who use their language with strong expletives are attempting to add punch to their statement. They are afraid their ideas, simply stated, are not strong enough to persuade, so they fling in bits of jarring language.

The habit is a deep-seated one and nagging won't help knock it in the head. Now that you've made an issue of it he may use cursing as a weapon of rebellion against you. Ignore it and hope one day, when he is more confident, he'll launder his language.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister and I, both unmarried, share an apartment. It is very convenient, for financial reasons. We are two and a half years apart in age. Both of us enjoy good health, we attend church regularly and we have many friends.

The trouble is I can't get my sister to accept her share of the responsibility for cooking or housekeeping. If she gets home first she sits and waits for me to decide what we are going to eat. And she likes to have me cook dinner and serve it.

My sister lets her laundry pile up, then begs me to do her things when I do mine. It's the same way with cleaning. I get tired of seeing her dressing table so messy so I straighten it.

How can I get this lazy girl to accept her share of the responsibility? I am fed up with her sloppiness. —DISGUSTED

Dear Dis.: You haven't told me how old your sister is, but this I can tell you — you are not going to change her. She has learned to maneuver you and you have not learned how to deal with her in a mature manner.

Move out and find another roommate or accept the situation and stop aggravating yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't give me a lecture. I know what I did wrong. What I need is one sentence of advice.

I am a 17-year-old girl who has gotten herself into a spot — the worst kind. I am pregnant. Can I make the boy marry me? Is there a law which says he has to give my baby a name?

I went with Stan when he lived here, in Connecticut, but he is now in the Army, stationed in Georgia. He says a person in the armed services cannot be forced to marry.

Actually I think Stan loves me and will marry me when the shock of parenthood wears off. But can I force him to marry me now? —CAPPY

Dear Cappy: You cannot force a boy to marry you whether he is in the Army or not.

And now may I ask just one question? Why in the world would you want a husband who had to be dragged to the altar — kicking and screaming? He is responsible for your medical care and the child's support, as any lawyer will tell you. But there is no law which will force a marriage — and I'm glad there isn't.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10c in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Spacecraft Test Proves Success At Cape Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Project Gemini spacecraft carrying a pair of mechanical simulated astronauts successfully rocketed over a scorching 16,600 miles an hour course today and parachuted to a landing in the Atlantic about 2,150 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

The flight, which subjected the spacecraft to maximum re-entry heat, was a crucial forerunner of an attempt to launch astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young into orbit in a similar capsule in April.

It was planned as the last unmanned flight of the series.

Up 19 Minutes

A Titan 2 rocket propelled the 6,900-pound craft skyward at 9:03 a.m. Nineteen minutes later it landed in the intended impact area about 17 miles from the main recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain.

Minutes later a recovery plane spotted the bell-shaped vehicle floating in waves six to eight feet high. Helicopters flew out from the Lake Champlain to retrieve the capsule.

The Titan 2 hurled the spacecraft to an altitude of 105 miles.

Then mechanical black boxes riding the seats automatically sent signals to the control system to flip the capsule around 180 degrees so that its blunt protective heat shield was in position to absorb the re-entry heat.

These electronic crewmen then sent signals to separate an adapter section at the base of the capsule and to trigger four braking rockets. On orbital flights these rockets will serve to slow the capsule from orbital speed so it can return to earth. They were not necessary on today's flight but were fired for testing purposes.

Swimmers Secure Capsule

At an altitude of 10,600 feet on the way down, an 18-foot diameter stabilizing parachute opened. The 84-foot main chute unfurled at 9,000 feet and lowered the craft into the sea at about 30 feet a second.

Navy swimmers leaped from one of the helicopters and secured the capsule with an inflatable flotation collar. Then they waited in a life raft for the Lake Champlain to reach the scene.

Grissom, who made a suborbital space flight in Project Mercury; Young and several other astronauts who one day may make Gemini trips, followed the progress of the launching from the flight control center. The craft which Grissom and Young are to ride into space already is at Cape Kennedy undergoing checks.

Robert Pilon Accident Victim

WELLS—Word has been received here of the death of Robert Pilon by accidental carbon monoxide poisoning last weekend in Saginaw. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pilon, former residents of Wells, and his father is also a brother of Gilbert Pilon, also of Wells.

Danforth

Birthday Party

Kimberly Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson of Danforth, who was three years old Sunday, had a party at her home to celebrate the occasion. A pink and white birthday cake centered the lunch table. Among guests were Debra, Dennis and Gregory Eastman of Escanaba, Ronnie and Traci Anderson, Diana and Robin and Terri Potvin of Treenary.

Dog Warden Duties Cut

Starting the first of this year the Delta County dog warden is employed in that capacity only one day a week. The rest of his 40-hour work week is as a relief deputy in the sheriff's department.

The dog warden is Deputy Hector Larson who, with other employees of the Delta County Sheriff's Department, was placed on a 40-hour work week beginning Jan. 1 by the County Board of Supervisors.

Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman has directed the attention of the Escanaba City Council to the situation which puts Larson in the office of the sheriff as relief deputy "four nights of the week" and leaves him one day a week to devote to his "original job of dog warden."

"This situation of having a dog warden in the County of Delta for only one day a week is starting to work a hardship on other police agencies and citizens of the County, as well as the Cities of Escanaba and Gladstone," Chief Finman reported.

"I have spoken with Carroll Johnson, Chief of Police of Gladstone, and he states that the dog situation in that city is starting to get out of hand and it is expected to get worse as spring nears."

Chief Finman described an incident in which the police patrol car was used to pick up a stray dog. The dog was sick and the car had to be scrubbed out. The officer used the patrol car because "there was no dog warden available and he had no choice in the matter," the chief said.

Floyd Roberts Named Head Of 4-H Club Council

At Michigan State University Extension Center in Marquette last week 18 members of the U. P. 4-H Club Advisory Council elected officers and made plans for the coming year's 4-H project activities.

Floyd Roberts of Munising was elected chairman. Mrs. Loren A. Johnson of Iron Mountain was elected vice chairman and Mrs. Jean Anderson of Gwinn will be the new secretary.

The council established the dates of Sept. 20-21 for the U. P. leadermeet to be held at Camp Shaw, Chatham. Leadermeet is a leader training workshop for adult 4-H Club leaders.

The council drafted a letter to Upper Peninsula legislators, asking for support for a new $35,000 4-H exhibition building at the U. P. State Fair grounds in Escanaba.

In a move to earn money and also promote Upper Peninsula products, the council also agreed on a Peninsula-wide campaign whereby 4-H Club members will sell maple syrup, caramel fudge. The fudge, to be made by a U. P. candy maker, will be sold exclusively by 4-H members.

Circuit Court Jury Excused

All jurors called for the January term of Circuit Court today were excused from duty, one day before they were to be seated to hear one to two civil cases scheduled for jury trial.

According to a report from Judge Bernard H. Davidson, both cases have been settled out of court.

The first, originally set for trial Thursday, involved auto negligence suits filed by Roy E. and Nettie Barlow of Wayne, Mich., against William J. French, 323 N. 19th St., Escanaba, for damages from an accident on U.S. 2 in Masonville Township in 1959.

The other case, which was scheduled for jury trial next Monday, was a suit filed by John G. Lake Jr., Delta Ave., Gladstone, against Robert J. Gamble, operator of the Busy B Cafe for damages suffered in a fall at the cafe in 1963.

Four From PCA At Conference

Four local men representing the Production Credit Association of Escanaba will join 325 other PCA officers in Minneapolis this week in attending the annual PCA Director-Manager-Conference on Jan. 21-22. While attending they will survey the agricultural credit situation and discuss programs to meet the ever expanding credit needs of the modern farmer. This group controlled the lending of almost $400 million to farmers last year.

They will hear Frederick L. Deming, the new undersecretary of the treasury, as he discusses the farm outlook.

Andrew Lampen, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Paul (the organization that provides funds for the PCAs to lend by selling debentures to the investing public), will also speak. He will report that the 53 PCAs in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota loaned more money in 1964 than in any other year in their history.

R. B. Spink, manager of the PCA of Escanaba, and three farmer-directors will attend the conference. They are Ronald W. Clark, president of Gould City, Martin Witte, vice-president, Bark River, and Marion Pierce, of Wilson.

City To Meet With Planners

Representatives of a firm of a planning consultants and of the Urban Renewal regional office in Chicago are scheduled to meet with the Escanaba City Council at the City Hall Thursday night.

City Manager George Harvey said the Council will confer with both in a continuing discussion that will bring: 1 - The retaining of planning consultants; and 2 - Anticipated federal assistance in an Urban Renewal planning program.

In the afternoon the representatives of Larry Smith & Co., Washington, D.C. planning consulting firm, will meet with the Escanaba Planning Commission. It will be the second firm to be interviewed. Two others are scheduled to be heard later.

The Council Thursday will also consider: Adopting a proclamation for the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International; and authorizing settlement of an insurance company claim in an explosion that damaged the Saykly candy plant.

British candidates for office do not have to live in their constituency.

Cold Air Chills Atlantic Coast

By The Associated Press

A severe cold wave hugged the Atlantic Coast today, sending cool air into normally balmy Florida where part of the vegetable crop was ruined.

In an unusual turn-about, Scottsbluff, Neb., established a record for Jan. 18 Monday with a mild 62.

The midwinter chill pushed temperatures well below freezing across northern Florida and down to the low 40s even in the far south. Tallahassee, in the north, registered a low of 23 and it was 43 at Miami.

The Midwest was struck with near-zero weather and officials in Indiana struggled to recover from a 12-inch snowstorm that virtually paralyzed the state over the weekend.

Wicked weather in central and southern Florida damaged the state's sugar cane, but 45 per cent of the 229,000 acres had been harvested. Dade County was hardest hit, losing 30 per cent of its tomato crop, 60 per cent of the pole bean crop and 80 per cent of the squash crop.

Citrus fruits escaped with superficial damage, officials said. The cold struck north along the Atlantic Coast, sending temperatures to zero and below.

A snowstorm left 2 to 4 inches from Connecticut to Maine, following a weekend storm which dumped 7 to 12 inches in southern and central New England. Temperatures dropped as low as -15 in Newport, Vt.

Snow fell over stricken Indiana again Monday, where 12 inches fell over the weekend, drifted to 10 feet and left at least 28 persons dead.

Ski Enthusiast Wins Race, Bet With Snowshoe

MARQUETTE — Stanley Peterson of Marquette bet that skis are better than snowshoes for traveling cross country in the Upper Peninsula — and won.

Wearing skis, he traveled from Campeau's Creek Crossing to Big Bay — a distance of about 22 miles — in seven hours and 37 minutes. That was 33 minutes faster than Robert Decker of Marquette was able to make the trip on snowshoes.

Two others who started the race dropped out after reaching the three-quarter mark. The endurance race resulted from a wager over whether snowshoes or skis were faster.

Plank roads were built in the eastern U. S. in the middle 19th century.

Home And School Members Meet At St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's Home and School Association held its January meeting last night. A progress report was made on the central library project, and a working committee was appointed, consisting of Mesdames Carl Leitzmann, Robert Casey, George Harvey, John Ryan, Peter Kobasic, Richard Pryal, Joseph Heirman and John Cousineau, representing grades one through eight.

Gerald Cole, chairman of the Athletic committee, discussed proposed activities for the students, including a roller skating party, as well as a valentine dance for the adults.

Fr. Charles Strelch, former assistant in the parish, showed color slides taken while he was studying at the American College in Rome. The slides were of scenes at the first session of the Ecumenical Council; also of ancient ruins, churches, fountains, and pillars in which marble, being a cheap and available material, was used as commonly as tile is used here, he said, although all the fountains did not produce one good drop of water. There were many scenes from the Holy Land and Father commented on the particular significance of each of the many churches and others from Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Spain.

The vivid colors of the interiors of the beautiful buildings were obvious to the audience, as well as the constant sunshine. The terrain was rocky and hilly with little vegetation, and the weather hot and dry, Fr. Strelch said.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by Mrs. George Harvey, Mrs. Eric Engman, and Mrs. Fred Saykly and their committee of sixth grade room mothers. The sixth grade won the room count.

A bake sale is planned for the February project with Mrs. Robert Casey, Mrs. Harold Anderson and Mrs. George Chaudoir in charge.

MEMBERS OF THE Civic Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club, meeting Monday afternoon, completed plans for the public card party to be held Feb. 2 at 8 p. m. in the Lounge of the Elks Club. From the left are: Mrs. Edwin Wessel, Mrs. Merton Jensen, Mrs. O. W. Brookes, who is Woman's Club president, Mrs. Edmund Hengesh, Civic Committee chairman, and Mrs. Ed Boissineau. The party is being sponsored by the Civic Committee to earn funds for the work of the Gerontology Committee. Other members of the sponsoring group, not pictured, are Mesdames Francis Rodgers, Gunner Beck, Robert Krohmer, Michael B. Jensen, Richard Juetten and Ernest J. LaFave Jr. and Miss Marguerite Roberge. (Daily Press Photo)

Socialite Welcomers Active In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's Gold Coast society women are engaged in a welcome-neighbor project designed to change the city's crime image to that of the world's largest and friendliest convention city.

In groups of three they conduct tours, teas and social affairs for the forgotten women who accompany husbands to conventions. This special committee of 100 leading Chicago women representing 10 social and civic organizations serve without personal gain.

The Chicago Women's Welcome Committee is a unit of the not-for-profit Chicago Convention Bureau.

Formed Last Fall

Mrs. W. Lydon Wild, organized the committee within two weeks last fall when the convention bureau said there was a pressing need for it.

She called women to serve on the committee from Chicago's social register.

Mrs. Wild says, "I love Chicago. It's a very cultural city, you know. And I find other women are as enthusiastic about it as I am."

The members of the committee are prepared to open the doors to exclusive clubs, homes and cultural affairs for visiting women from cities throughout the U.S.A. and overseas countries.

Chicago conventions are big business. Last year, Chicago hosted 1,100 conventions and trade shows attended by 1.3 million persons.

In Groups

Wives scheduled to attend conventions with husbands are sent special invitations weeks in advance of the convention. The wives are arranged in groups of 20 to 50 persons.

Like their hosts, visiting wives usually are members of junior leagues, women's clubs and women's auxiliaries. Women who previously might have disliked walking alone in Michigan Avenue's shopping area are shown cultural centers, guided to antique shop sales and entertained at teas in homes.

In the only slipup to date in the planned schedule, a visit to a large yacht in Belmont Harbor was canceled because stormy weather kicked up six-foot waves.

Christian Science Society
The age-old question of "What is Truth?" is given a fresh exploration in Christian Science churches this Sunday. The Bible Lesson is on "Truth" and the Golden Text is from Psalms (86:11): "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth."

One insight into the question is presented in a paragraph from the opening pages of the Christian Science textbook: "The time for thinkers has come. Truth, independent of doctrines and time-honored systems, knocks at the portal of humanity. Contentment with the past and the cold conventionality of materialism are crumbling away. Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith. The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Lemmer PTA Meeting Held Monday Night

John Lemmer Parent Teacher Association held its regular meeting at the school Monday evening at 7:30. Following the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and other opening ceremonies, the president, Mrs. Alfred Gossan, conducted the business meeting.

Robert Barron, chairman of the Safety committee and his associate members, Marvin Pearson and Roy Hivala, analyzed the type of accidents occurring at school during 1963. Parents were reminded that it is their responsibility to educate their children in safety.

It was the recommendation of this committee that pick-up points for children getting in and out of cars should be a block away from the school entrance in any of three directions. This would alleviate the traffic jam in front of the school. The recommendation was approved by the members. William Servant introduced the speaker, H. Glenn Gamble, Public Relations chairman for the local M.E.A. His topic was "What the M.E.A. Does for Your Child." He described public relations as sharing and trading information, and emphasized that the M.E.A. works to improve education through legislation, recruitment of teachers and research.

Serving on the refreshment committee with the first grade room mothers, Mrs. William Kress and Mrs. John Rolig, were the Mesdames Kenneth Benzie, Howard Flath, John Gogas, George Bartley, Allyn Holteim, Glenn Johnston, Allan Nelson, Kenneth Buckland, Isadore Stein, Joseph Herro, David Setunsky, Jack Magnusen and Carl Witte.

BELL TOLLS AGAIN

DELTONA, Fla. (AP)—A bell cast in 1859 is coming out of retirement for the second time.

The bell, manufactured in West Troy, N.Y., clanged for 25 years on a railroad locomotive plying between New York and Florida. Retired from this service, it called pupils to class at a one-room schoolhouse near Pierson, Fla., for half a century.

With the passing of the one-room schoolhouse era the bell fell silent for 30 years. Now it has been dusted off and installed in a Deltona building which will be used as an adult education center.

'George O'Doyle' Never Found At Inaugural Show

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The show was late in starting and producer Richard Adler was nervously whispering to an aide:

"Remember, protocol - wise, Sally Ann Howes has to first shake the President's hand, then present the flowers to Mrs. Johnson, then just greet the Humphreys."

A few minutes later a man no one knew and many thought was smashed suddenly announced over the PA system: "George O'Doyle, will you please raise your hand?" Among the 11,000 Democrats present Monday night for the inaugural gala at the National Armory it was difficult to see a hand go up or find out who O'Doyle was.

Cameras Close In
Finally, things got started only 40 minutes late. The President and his party entered while the photographers crept forward like Baluba tribesmen

Miss Howes, the producer's wife, presented her late-blooming protocols, and the show began. It had a little bit of everything.

Alfred Hitchcock, the movie director turned emcee, referred to Hubert H. Humphrey being at the "awkward age — he's no longer a senator and not yet a vice president."

Hitchcock also delivered "a word from our sponsor, Friends of the loyal opposition, do you still suffer from the Nov. 4 morning-after feeling? Do you feel that your group had all the cavities? Are you hurt because no one put you in the driver's seat? Well, now you can relax and leave the driving to us."

There were songs by Bobby Darin, including "Mack the Knife," which the emcee said was dedicated by the Army Reserve to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. There was a monologue by comic Woody Allen, who asked the President for "federal intervention in marriage."

New 'Dolly' Version
Carol Channing of 'Hello Dolly' sang a new version of "Hello London" which said it was "so nice to have you here where you belong — you're still growing, you're still crowing — and who the heck is Barry what's-his-name?"

Carol Burnett and Julie Andrews sang a rousing medley and there were also loud hands for the "pas de deux" danced by ballet stars Dame Margot Fonteyne and Rudolf Nureyev, the songs of Harry Belafonte and Barbra Streisand and the comedy skit by Mike Nichols and Elaine May.

Johnny Carson of television noted "all the tuxedos with spurs" in Washington and said he envied the boys the Johnson daughters date. "Imagine," he said, "They sit with their dates on the couches while their father runs around turning off the lights."

Carson said that, to make the performers available for the gala, two Broadway shows, one international ballet, two television shows and shooting on four movie sets had to be postponed or closed. The audience seemed to think it was worth it although the mystery of George O'Doyle was never cleared up.

The American freighter, the 6,103-ton Lucile Bloomfield of Galveston, Tex., caught fire after the collision, but the flames were put out. No casualties were reported among its crew of 44.

The Lucile Bloomfield took aboard 22 of the tanker's crew, and, blackened by smoke, put into port today. Injured tanker crewmen were hospitalized. Six were reported in serious condition.

'False Image' Defeated GOP, Eisenhower Says
NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower believes the future of the Republican party lies in a new image compatible with its origin under Lincoln.

In an article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, he said the GOP was framed in a "false image" even before its 1964 defeat.

Partly responsible for the defeat, he wrote, were a powerful publicity campaign mounted by entrenched Democrats and the bitterness of the pre-election primary campaigns.

Even some Republicans, he said, "gained the mistaken impression that their party's national ticket had abandoned many traditional Republican principles and leaned toward reactionary, extremist and racist fringes."

He said the GOP must show the nation it is "still the party of Lincoln, deeply dedicated to his concepts of human liberty, dignity and equality."

Adult Education Courses Offered At Bark River

The Bark River - Harris School District is planning to offer several courses to the adults of the area, if sufficient interest is shown in such a program.

The program would have to be on a self-supporting basis, so fees would be charged for any courses offered. Also, only those areas which have enough people interested, would be included in the final offerings.

Presently, plans call for Driver Education, Knitting, English, "New" Mathematics, Typing and Office Practice, Welding and Metal Work, General Science, and Gym.

Other subjects areas will be included if there is enough of a demand for them. In courses where a limited registration must be held, due to available facilities, people will be taken on a "first-come" basis.

Muskegon First In Fire Safety

BOSTON (AP) — Muskegon ranked first in Michigan and second among cities of its size in the United States in "excellence in the field of fire safety education and performance," as judged by the National Fire Protection Association in 1964.

Muskegon, which trailed only Wausau, Wis., in the 20,000-50,000 population bracket, was rated 12th among the 208 U.S. communities competing.

Behind Muskegon among state cities came Grand Rapids and Wyoming, with Flint, Detroit and Farmington receiving honorable mention.

Judges in the NFPA's Fire Prevention and Clean-Up Campaign Committee contest also voted special recognition to Ford Motor Co. and listed the firm's general office in Dearborn and plants at Wayne, Warren, Dearborn, Utica, Livonia and Ypsilanti as among winners in the industrial division.

K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Marquette, ranked seventh among U.S. Air Force installations in the high population group.

Gogebic County Job Training Center Gets OK

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today announced approval of establishment of a Job Corps Conservation Center in Gogebic County, seven miles south of Marquette.

The project, to be known as the Ojibway Center, will be located in the Ottawa National Forest and will be under supervision of the U. S. Forest Service.

It is intended to provide unemployed, out-of-school youths between 16 and 21 with basic working skills and training in use of hand tools, power tools and heavy equipment.

The Upper Peninsula center is the second announced for Michigan since establishment of the program. Romney approved creation of a similar center near Cadillac last month. Both will be financed entirely from federal funds.

Romney noted that the affected area "has been suffering from high unemployment and recently has further unemployment resulting from the closing of several iron mines."

Fare Reduction Made By C&O

LANSING (AP) — Chairman Peter Spivak of the State Public Service Commission objected Monday that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad had put through a fare reduction without any effort to advertise or publicize the saving to passengers.

The cuts went into effect Monday and apply only on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

The railroad seeks to discontinue two trains daily between Detroit and Grand Rapids. A preliminary hearing on the railroad suit seeking to abandon the trains is scheduled for Feb. 11 in Ingham County Circuit Court.

"To reduce rates by 30 per cent and tell no one seems to indicate the railroad is not really interested in new business, but may only be attempting to be able to argue in court that passengers will not ride the trains at any price," Spivak said.

Notice of the fare reduction was delivered to wire service offices in Detroit shortly after 5 p.m. Monday, and said the cutback was "designed to bring back business lost to airplanes and private automobiles."

Coed At MSU Helps Break Up Abortion Racket

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A 20-year-old Michigan State University coed majoring in police administration served as a secret police agent to help break up an alleged Detroit abortion ring, authorities revealed Monday.

The girl, Nancy Parrette of Grand Rapids, testified in the Police Court trial of Conrad Lauth, 62, and his wife, Emeline, 64, both of Detroit, and Mrs. Geraldine Kuieck, 33, of Marne.

The girl said arrangements were made to meet the Kuieck woman in a Lansing night club, where the coed said she handed over $500 in marked bills. Then, she said, the two went to Detroit to the Lauth home.

State police said they raided the home shortly after Miss Parrette entered and arrested the three.

Lt. Raymond H. McConnell, commander of the State Police Security Division at Lansing, earlier testified that Mrs. Kuieck made contacts for abortions which Mrs. Lauth performed in her home.

Needs

MADISON, Wis. — Proposed $2 pheasant and trout stamps are needed to help finance the Wisconsin Conservation Department's entire fish and game program, not just pheasant and trout stocking, according to Director L. P. Voigt.

Voigt pointed out that the inflationary spiral has forced conservation to operate an ever-increasing program with an ever-decreasing number of employees. He said pheasant and trout stamps are deliberately equated with stocking programs "on the excellent premise that the man who receives an extra recreational benefit should be willing to pay for it."

African craftsmen, long famous for their starkly primitive tribal masks and statues, are now being praised for their pottery.

INSTANT ROAD—Flexible aluminum road rolls off a large cylinder mounted on the back of an Army truck. It then passes beneath the truck's wheels and, presto, a ribbon of road is left behind. This new process has been made possible by the development of 11-foot-wide, 2-inch-thick interlocking aluminum strips that are assembled on 255 foot rolls. It opens the way to nearly normal travel in areas of uneven terrain, swamp and sand.

Date Set For 18 In Civil Rights Murder Charges

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A federal judge has set Jan. 27 for arraignment of 18 men charged with conspiracy in the murder of three civil rights workers.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox, who will preside at the trial, ordered defense lawyers to get their various motions on file by next Monday. A hearing on them will be held Jan. 26.

Action by the judge, a sharp critic of the civil rights drive, came after several conferences in Jackson Monday with John Doar of Washington, chief of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division.

Doar has been in Jackson since he assisted in presenting the case to the 23-member federal grand jury that later indicted 18 men on the conspiracy charges.

Two of the men — both reported to have given confessions to the FBI — were arrested and freed on $5,000 bond.

Armstrong, who toured United States military installations in Japan during the Christmas season, has been hailed as the "King of the Trumpet" since the late 1930's.

Checkup Begins On Rep. West

LANSING (AP) — Five legislators start checking fraud, forgery and misrepresentation charges against Detroit Democrat Daniel West this week to determine whether he should be seated for a second term in the House.

The bipartisan House committee also was to check into legal precedents regarding seating of House members.

West, 54, has been indicted on 117 counts of an alleged income tax return swindle. He also faces a charge of forgery in the cashing of a $424 Detroit city income tax refund check and charges of vote fraud.

Another House committee, meanwhile, was to lay the groundwork today for a recount that could trim the already scant Republican minority from 38 to 37 of the 110 House seats.

The committee, headed by majority floor Leader J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, was to meet with Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Charlotte, and Democratic candidate Claude Burton of Bellevue and their attorneys to work out rules for the recount. Newton beat Burton by a scant six votes in the Nov. 3 election.

Robin Hood Gives Up To Sheriff Of Evansville

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A voice on the telephone told an Evansville police dispatcher, "My name is Robin Hood. Are you looking for me?"

"No. But I believe the Sheriff of Nottingham is," answered the officer responding to what he thought was a prank call.

Later Monday, Robin E. Hood, 23, Davenport, Iowa, surrendered at headquarters saying he was wanted in his hometown for auto theft. Checks with Davenport detectives confirmed Hood's story and he was jailed to await transfer to Iowa.

Train Accidents Take Two Lives

STOCKBRIDGE (AP) — Glenn Runciman, 58, of Gregory, was killed Monday when his car and a Grand Trunk Western freight train collided at an open crossing here. The Ingham County Sheriff's Department said the train crew reported Runciman apparently did not see the train until he had driven onto the tracks.

ROYAL OAK (AP) — Mrs. Sarah Phillips, 82, of Madison Heights, was struck and killed by a Grand Trunk Western passenger train at a downtown crossing Monday. Police said witnesses reported Mrs. Phillips ignored flashing lights, warning bells and a sidewalk barrier.

Collision-Fire Kills 7 On Ship

LE HAVRE, France (AP) — A collision of an American freighter and a French coastal gasoline tanker set the tanker afire in the foggy English Channel Monday night and left seven persons dead or missing.

An officer and the wife of a crewman on the tanker, the 2,062-ton Port Manech, died in the inferno that was fed by the cargo of high test gasoline.

Port authorities expressed fear that five missing crewmen were also dead, trapped in the engine room of the Port Manech. The tanker was aground and still burning furiously several miles off Le Havre. It had been erroneously reported at one point that all the crewmen were accounted for.

The American freighter, the 6,103-ton Lucile Bloomfield of Galveston, Tex., caught fire after the collision, but the flames were put out. No casualties were reported among its crew of 44.

The Lucile Bloomfield took aboard 22 of the tanker's crew, and, blackened by smoke, put into port today. Injured tanker crewmen were hospitalized. Six were reported in serious condition.

'False Image' Defeated GOP, Eisenhower Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower believes the future of the Republican party lies in a new image compatible with its origin under Lincoln.

In an article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, he said the GOP was framed in a "false image" even before its 1964 defeat.

Partly responsible for the defeat, he wrote, were a powerful publicity campaign mounted by entrenched Democrats and the bitterness of the pre-election primary campaigns.

Even some Republicans, he said, "gained the mistaken impression that their party's national ticket had abandoned many traditional Republican principles and leaned toward reactionary, extremist and racist fringes."

He said the GOP must show the nation it is "still the party of Lincoln, deeply dedicated to his concepts of human liberty, dignity and equality."

Hawkeyes Catch Hoosiers, Eye Bigger Game

By The Associated Press

It didn't take Iowa long to catch up with Indiana's hurrying Hoosiers. Now the Hawkeyes are looking forward to a Bear hunt.

Iowa, beaten on its home court a week ago by the fifth-ranked Hoosiers, tracked them back to Bloomington, Ind., Monday night, scored a 74-68 upset and climbed into second place in the Big Ten Conference basketball race.

The surprising Hawks, ninth in last season's Big Ten windup, are right behind Michigan today with a 4-1 league mark. They visit Ann Arbor Feb. 8. Immediately ahead, however, is a Jan. 29 date in Chicago with UCLA's No. 1-ranked Bruins.

Indiana may make a pitch for a six-day week. The Hoosiers have been beaten only twice in 14 season starts—each time on a Monday night. The loss to Iowa dropped them into fourth place in the conference with a 3-2 record.

Gary Olson and Chris Purvall divided 40 points for Iowa, which blazed to a 34-20 halftime margin on .536 shooting and was never headed. Steve Redenbaugh and Dick Van Arsdale paced the Hoosiers with 18 points apiece. Indiana starter Jon McGlocklin sat out the game with a knee injury.

The evening wasn't a complete washout for the Hoosier state. Ron Iwema poured in 26 points, leading Butler to an 80-74 ambush of Bradley at Indianapolis.

Only a handful of major games were played as the annual semester break cut into the schedule. Kentucky and Tennessee won key Southeastern Conference tests and Nebraska whipped Iowa State in a battle

Negaunee St. Paul Keeps Second Spot In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Leaders in the lower two classes of the Michigan High School Basketball Poll made it by narrow margins this week, but Benton Harbor and River Rouge pulled away in Class A and B, respectively.

Portland took over the Class C lead in this week's poll by The Associated Press' statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. But its margin was only three points over Muskegon Christian.

Barrytown retained its lead in Class D, but Negaunee St. Paul is only three points back.

Benton Harbor, the defending Class A champion, lengthened its lead to 31 poll points over Pontiac Central. Lansing Sexton lead to 31 poll points over Pontiac Central. Lansing Sexton moved into a third place tie with Hamtramck and Grand Rapids South replaced East Detroit in sixth place.

Saginaw Arthur Hill Tech made the biggest advance when it jumped from ninth to fifth in Class B.

Fenton, Tecumseh and Ludington trail River Rouge, the latter moving up one notch from last week.

Allegan tied Rudyard for the final B spot in its first appearance in the poll. Orchard Lake St. Mary dropped out.

Portland, third last week, is one of only four undefeated teams rated in Class C. Hamtramck St. Florian (9-0) took over third place, with Frankenthum placing fourth, six places better than last week.

Hancock and St. Ignace tied for tenth place as Perry and Grosse Pointe St. Paul dropped among the also rans.

Saginaw Holy Rosary and Dryden made the best advances in Class D, the former moving up two places to third and the latter four places to fourth.

Playboy Fighter Defeats Champ In Ring Upset

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Carlos Hernandez, a playboy fighter who had just finished a suspension for a drinking escapade, today held the world junior welterweight title after scoring a narrow, upset victory over defender Eddie Perkins of Chicago.

The tall, 24-year-old Caracas clown, noted both for his punching prowess and irregular training habits, surprised the home fans by finishing his first 15-rounder with plenty of bounce.

Hernandez won the 140-pound division championship on a split decision as the two Latin-American judges outvoted Henry Armstrong, the American referee who once held three world boxing titles.

Armstrong had Perkins the big winner on points, 150 to 129. Judge Dimas Hernandez Nokin had Hernandez in front, 143-142 while Judge Santos Arizmendi scored it 146-143 for Hernandez.

Sports writers had the fight even, giving each six rounds and calling three rounds even. Most of them agreed that Perkins was the aggressor and landed more effective blows, especially uppercuts.

A poll of the ringside showed many felt Perkins had been robbed. But one sports writer accused Armstrong of being influenced by his nationality.

The 27-year-old Perkins, who had won seven straight fights including three title contests in the last two years, received a $22,500 guarantee for risking his crown in Hernandez' home town.

Perkins probably will get a return bout.

Fighting in his opponent's home town is a regular thing with Perkins. The 140-pound division crown is more highly prized outside of the United States. Perkins has had six junior welterweight fights, all of them in backyards of his opponents.

Perkins, who weighed 140 pounds to Hernandez' 139 1/2, carried the fight to his tall rival in the first half of the fight. He worked on the Venezuelan's body and then moved in close in order not to give Carlos any punching room for his feared right.

Hernandez had dropped Perkins with the right in a non-title bout which the American won in Caracas in 1961.

Hernandez opened up in the 11th round and took the play away from the champion but he could not drop him. There were no knockdowns. Hernandez was cut over the right eye in the 10th round but the gash did not hamper him.

Hernandez has a 38-4-4 won-loss record. Perkins' record is 31-10-1.

Because of his playboy habits and nocturnal prowling, the experts here had predicted that Hernandez would have to knock out Perkins to win. Few ever thought he would be able to go 15 rounds without flopping on his face.

Swimming Team Gets Top Honor

By The Associated Press

"This is the greatest swimming and diving team ever assembled for any Olympics. It may be years, if ever, before we see another like it."

So said Dr. Harold Henning, manager of the U.S. Olympic swimming team after his teenage stars had completed a series of unprecedented triumphs at Tokyo last October.

"We left swimmers at home who could win medals in these games," he added.

An Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters confirmed that judgment today by naming the Olympic swimming squad as the outstanding team on the year in The AP year-end poll.

It was a natural choice, since the same voters previously had picked Don Schollander, winner of four Olympic gold medals in swimming, as the Male Athlete of the Year and had picked two Olympic swimmers among the first five in the voting for the Female Athlete of the Year.

The U.S. Olympic swimmers and divers took 16 gold medals, 10 second-place silvers and five third-place bronze medals in the Tokyo Games, an unmatched

Yago Suffers Ankle Sprain, Misses Game

Con Yagodzinski, second leading scorer and a top rebounder on the Northern Michigan University basketball team, missed the Saturday game against Hillsdale because of a sprained ankle.

Coach Stan Albeck's Wildcats rallied from a three point halftime deficit to win, 91-64, over the downstate Dales.

Yagodzinski suffered the ankle injury, termed a "slight sprain, in practice the day before the game. He is expected to be ready to return to action when the Wildcats travel to Norman, Okla., to face the powerful Oklahoma Sooners Saturday night. Northern will carry an 8-2 record into the contest.

Replacing Yagodzinski, a 6 foot 5 inch sophomore from Holy Name, was freshman Bruce Forstrom who contributed 13 points against Hillsdale.

The Baltimore Colts, Western Conference champions of the National Football League, drew 15 first-place votes and 156 points for fourth place while the Cleveland Browns, who clobbered the Colts in the playoff game, were a weak ninth. The ballots were marked before the NFL playoff.

The triumph moved Iowa into second place in the conference standings with a 4-1 record against Michigan's 2-0 mark. This means Michigan must win its next three games to retain the conference lead.

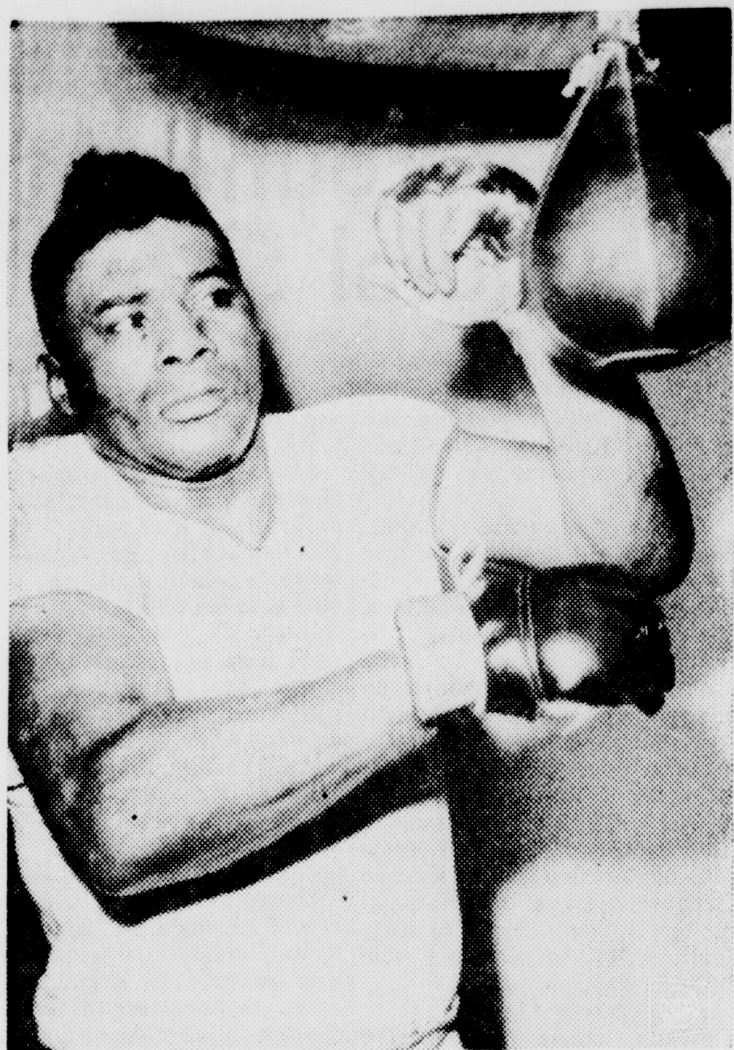

Iowa's victory was astounding over fifth-ranked Indiana. Only a week ago the Hoosiers had scored an 85-76 triumph over the Hawkeyes at Iowa City.

Iowa's triumph broke a logjam for second place in the Big Ten, dropping Illinois (3-1) into third place and leaving Indiana (3-2) in fourth place.

Little change is expected in conference standings over the weekend despite three scheduled games Saturday.

Michigan will be home against Purdue in a regionally televised matinee, Northwestern goes to Michigan State and Ohio State plays at Minnesota.

Only if Purdue upsets Michigan will there be significant changes in the standings. Purdue has lost at Wisconsin and

Faculty Cagers Meet Thursday In Second Tilt

The second annual inter-faculty basketball game between Escanaba and Holy Name will be played at the Crusader gym Thursday night.

A preliminary game, matching players from Escanaba and Holy Name football teams who are not members of their school varsity or jayvee teams, will begin at 6:30. The main attraction will begin at 8.

The game is sponsored by the Holy Name Varsity Club with profits going to the Crusader athletic program.

In the first game played last year at Escanaba the Holy Name faculty notched a victory. A rotating trophy, made by Brother Nicholas of Noly Name, will be awarded to the winner of this year's contest.

Buffalo Owner Raps Bonuses

PONTIAC (AP)—Ralph Wilson, owner of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, says recent bonuses are "ridiculous."

He said "if this should continue, every pro football team in the country will be operating in the red within the next three years."

Wilson, speaking to the Pontiac Traffic Club, made the comments in reply to a question from his audience how he felt about the total $600,000 in bonuses and contracts from the AFL's New York Jets to Joe Namath of Alabama and John Hurate of Notre Dame.

Wilson, referring to Bob Timberlake, star Michigan quarterback drafted by both the Bills and the New York Giants of the NFL, said he knew the Giants were ready to g "pretty high" for Timberlake "but we're ready to give them a good fight."

One Spot Open In Golf Field

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Seventeen more professional golfers, shooting 73s or under on an 18-hole course, have qualified for Thursday's Bing Crosby Golf Tournament.

The pros topped a field of 160 during competition Monday for 18 spots left open after previously qualified pros were listed.

The 18th and final vacancy was to be selected this morning.

Elias Is Named Head Football Coach At Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Bill Elias of Virginia signs on today as the fourth civilian coach of Navy football teams since the Naval Academy decided to stop rotating officers in the job after World War II.

His immediate predecessors — Eddie Erdelatz and Wayne Hardin — had successful runs of nine and six years, respectively, before resigning under pressure after personality clashes.

Athletic Leaders Continue Wrangle

NEW YORK (AP) — The new president of the Amateur Athletic Union, in response to an NCAA invitation, has asked for a meeting "on the highest possible level" and has sighted a possible solution to the long-standing and complex dispute with the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The NCAA, however, all of a sudden, isn't quite so sure.

"These things have to go through the right channels," said Walter Byers, NCAA executive director in Kansas City Monday after being informed of the AAU stand.

"Anyone who thinks this thing can be solved on a strictly NCAA-AAU level has to be ridiculous," Byers said. "The MONTREAL (AP) — Chicago's Bobby Hull continues to cash National Hockey League bonus checks almost as fast as he scores goals.

Hull, unanimous choice at left wing on the NHL first All-Star team and the top scorer in the league at the halfway point, also leads in the race for the Hart Trophy as the most valuable player and Lady Byng Trophy for gentlemanly and effective play.

Stars Named For Puck Tilt

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Port Huron Flugs placed seven players on the 15-man International Hockey League All-Star Team which will play the defending IHL champion Toledo Blades next Tuesday at Toledo.

The all-star team was announced Monday by IHL Secretary Novie Newstate. Voting was by the six coaches with no one casting a ballot for his own team or the Blades.

Fort Wayne placed four men on the all-star team; Des Moines, two, and Dayton and Muskegon, one each. The all-stars will be coached by Des Moines coach Minnie Menard.

In all, 33 players were nominated for the all-star team.

Selected were:

Port Huron — Norm Jacques, Bob Sneddon, Guy James, Marcel Goyette, Lloyd Maxfield, Billy LeCaine and Frank St. Marseille.

Fort Wayne — Lionel Repka, Bobby Rivard, Johnny Goodwin and Len Thomson.

Des Moines — Shorty Melanuk and Pat Ginnell.

Dayton — Guy Trotter.

Muskegon — Stan Konrad.

Russell's Mate Fourth Leading Point Producer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Russell, a defensive marvel during the Boston Celtics' 14-game National Basketball Association winning streak, has had an unsung offensive accomplice in slick Sam Jones.

While Russell's rebounding and shot-blocking have been accepted generally as the key to the defending champions' current victory binge, Jones has been quietly pacing the attack.

The 31-year-old North Carolina College alumnus is headed for the best season performance in his eight-year pro career.

Weekly NBA statistics today showed Jones is the league's No. 4 scorer — behind Wilt Chamberlain, Jerry West and

Wilt Absent, 76ers Triumph

By The Associated Press

The National Basketball Association's road show moved to Cleveland Monday night with the Philadelphia 76ers beating the Detroit Pistons 109-95, in the only NBA game played.

Last week the league played games in Tulsa, Okla.; Pittsburgh, and Chicago. The 76ers and the Pistons play in Toledo, Ohio tonight.

The still Wilt Chamberlain-less 76ers got 28 points from Hal Greer and pulled away from the Pistons in the final period. Player-coach Dave DeBusschere was high for Detroit with 23.

Chamberlain, acquired in exchange for three players last week, still has not reported to his new club. He was given a week off to settle affairs in San Francisco.

problem is much more far-reaching than that."

In New York, the new president of the AAU, Clifford Buck of Denver, who took office only a month ago, said:

"If the president of the AAU can presume to have a platform, mine would include two basic planks.

"1. To launch an improved program for athletics and athletes.

"2. A prime objective must be the satisfactory settlement — a mutually satisfactory settlement — of the difference of opinion between the AAU and the other organization.

"My personal feeling is that I'd be glad to sit down and discuss with anyone, a plan leading toward a solution.

"I feel the best chance for a solution is for a meeting on the highest possible level."

The NCAA, which supervises the athletics of most of the nation's colleges, in its recent convention in Chicago passed a resolution calling for "direct communication" with the AAU leading to "negotiations toward co-operative certification and sanctioning of track and field on a domestic level."

"I was delighted and greatly encouraged by the action taken in the Chicago convention," Buck said. "I have not yet had any communication from the NCAA, but I am eagerly looking forward to it. Their recent actions are most heartening."

Later, however, Byers said no such communication has yet been initiated, but will be forthcoming shortly.

He said, too, that the NCAA Council — the group's policy-making body — had decided that any such negotiations and communications should be initiated by the NCAA representatives to the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

This group, set up and sponsored by the NCAA, represents other interests than the NCAA but placing the negotiations in this group's hands would seem to kill hopes for a high-level meeting between the NCAA and the AAU.

"We would be happy to meet with the AAU on matters concerning the two groups alone," Byers said, "but this matter concerns other groups, which properly falls under the supervision of the USTFF, of which we are only one member."

The NCAA, representing the colleges, first asked for more control and sanctioning of international competition in which college athletes compete. They since have retreated from this position and now ask for more control and sanctioning of domestic meets in which college athletes compete.

The AAU, which has the international franchise for sanctioning of all open meets — that is, meets in which other than college athletes compete — has opposed the NCAA position.

Bruins Retain Top Spot In College Cage Ranks

By The Associated Press

The men who vote in The Associated Press' weekly major-college basketball poll had good reason to walk with chests expanded today.

So do the Top Ten teams, including streaking UCLA which has increased its first-place margin.

A week ago, the Bruins held a 58-point lead over Michigan. Wichita was third followed by St. Joseph's, P.; Indiana; Providence; St. John's, N.Y.; Davidson; San Francisco, and Duke.

The selections obviously couldn't be beaten because the ten put together a combined 18-0 record with Providence the only non-victorious team last week. The Friars, the only unbeaten major team, were idle.

As a result, there were only a couple of minor shuffles in the rankings. St. Joseph's moved into third place, switching positions with Wichita. Davidson, a three-time winner last week, advanced to seventh while St. John's dropped back a notch to eighth.

The regional panel of 41 writers and broadcasters gave UCLA a 90-point edge in the latest balloting. The Bruins collected 4 first-place votes and 401 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

The Bruins beat California and Stanford last week, extending their winning streak to 13 games.

Michigan, 10-2, defeated Northwestern 90-68 to hold the runner-up spot. St. Joseph's, which nosed out Wichita for third place 274 points to 273, beat Seton Hall 115-81 and Lafayette 82-68 while the Shockers whipped Southern Illinois 94-81 and St. Louis 75-64. St. Joe's record is 14-1 and Wichita's 12-2.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points:

Newsprinters want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

Ken Tilton
Finds Big Rock

Kenneth Tilton, former resident, had a story and picture about a large rock he found published on the front page of the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News.

Tilton was reported certain the rock was jade but won't know the worth of it until it is cut open.

The rock was found on a hillside and weighs at least 7,000 pounds. He started with a jeep to remove it, and finally a wrecker was called to extract the partially imbedded stone, which Tilton says "was glaring right at me."

A specimen has been sent to Smithsonian Institute. Allen Griesmer, geologist with the Dayton Museum of Natural History says the rock is similar to actinolite, one of the jade minerals. This puts it in the nephelitic jade class, which merely distinguishes it from the more valued of the two types of jade.

"I'm sure it's not worth as much as a gem but it's worth quite a bit to Mr. Tilton," said Griesmer. "You can't really tell without chemical analysis."

Tilton, who has the rock in front of his rock and gift shop, says it's a "rock-hound's dream. Some people only get a chance at a rock like this once in a lifetime. Others never get this chance."

After the Smithsonian report is back, Tilton says he will offer the rock for sale and "people will come from all over the country to look at it . . . It's very unusual; perhaps the biggest one ever found in the state."

Tilton moved to Ohio three years ago. His shop is at 4716 Linden Ave.

Warren Leads State Building

The City of Detroit issued more than 2,000 building permits in 1964—mostly for apartment buildings—but the city demolished so many dwellings that it may have registered a net loss of more than 700 dwelling units in the year.

While this was happening the city of Warren continued to be the fastest-growing community in Michigan. This Detroit suburban community led the state in population growth and home construction for the sixth consecutive year.

Mayor William A. Shaw announced that the suburb issued construction permits last year for 4,158 new dwellings, including 1,168 apartment units, worth $60 million.

This exceeded the five previous years in which it led the state.

Shaw said issuance of 6,042 permits for structures of all kinds in 1964, worth $100 million compared to 5,669 permits worth $73 million in 1963.

He said Warren added more than 1,000 new residents a month during 1964, raising its population above 140,000 for an increase of almost 52,000 since the 1960 federal census.

Shaw said about 40 per cent of his city's 34½ square miles still is undeveloped. He predicted at least two more years as a growth leader and a population of almost 200,000 in 1970.

Warren already ranks as the state's fourth most populous city, behind Detroit, Flint and Grand Rapids. It became the metropolitan area's most populated suburb three years ago replacing Dearborn.

Although Detroit has lost more than 52,000 of the 1,670,000 residents it had in the 1960 census, there has been a 200,000 increase to about 4,135,000 for the combined area of Macomb, Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

Warren was responsible for one-fourth of this area's population growth since the census. Livonia was second, contributing 20,000 new residents. Dear-

Adult Class At Stephenson

STEPHENSON — The meeting held Wednesday, Jan. 13, 1965 to organize an adult class in physical fitness and recreation in the mid county area met with considerable enthusiasm. School administrators discussed the administration of the program with those interested, the instructors for the class spent some time discussing activities to be included.

The instructors for the men will be Duane Lord and Kenneth Hofer. The instructor for the women's class will be Mrs. Wanda Dean.

born added less than 2,000 to reach its currently estimated 114,000 total.

JUST A FEW LEFT—Standing like lonely sentinels in the night, just 13 states are still without a form of sales tax and four of these are considering it. Average sales tax is 2.93 per cent. Highest such tax is Pennsylvania's 5 per cent and nine states charge the low of 2 per cent. Most states introduced the tax about the time of World War II.

Car Production Nears Record

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer
DETROIT (AP)—U. S. auto makers appeared well on their way today toward a second successive 800,000-plus production record this month with American Motors the only question mark.

AMC had the dual problem of a production cutback effective Jan. 25 and a strike vote taken at its Milwaukee body plant Monday. In the vote, United Auto Workers Local 75 members authorized their executive board to call a strike at the plant.

The company's daily production quota of 2,110 cars will be cut to 1,957, company officials said. They said about 2,600 persons from a work force of 24,600 temporarily would be laid off.

United Auto Workers Local 75 said the strike vote centered about questions of interpretation on its new contract with AMC. Any possible strike must await authorization from the UAW international headquarters at Detroit.

AMC and Chrysler plants were on five day work weeks last week as the industry turned out an estimated 210,876 cars, a drop of about 3,000 from the previous week.

General Motors had 18 of its 22 assembly plants in overtime operations Saturday. Ford had similar work underway at 15 of its 16 assembly units.

GM's output for the week was 38 per cent ahead of the year-ago week figure. Ford was up about 31 per cent. Chrysler was about 37 per cent ahead of the year ago week. AMC was off about 500 units over the year ago week.

Despite production problems, American Motors reported its sales of 1965 models through Jan. 10 total 128,163 cars, an increase over the 122,918 cars sold in the comparable sales period of this 1964 model.

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Edison Co. today reported a net profit of $51.7 million for 1964, equal to $46.17, or $1.60 a share, for 1963. The electric utility said its gross revenues were 7.4 per cent from $320 million in 1963 to $343.6 million 1964.

Banker Describes Visit To Moscow At Kiwanis Club

Scenes in color from behind the Iron Curtain, many of them from Moscow and vicinity, were shown to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday by Herbert Corey, Stephenson banker, who collected the photographs during a three-weeks conducted tour. He accompanied the showing of the picture slides with a commentary on the places visited.

Mr. Corey, who is president of the Bank of Stephenson and immediate past president of the Michigan Bankers Assn., noted that in three weeks his tour group covered 17,000 miles in six countries. The travelog program was arranged for the club by Charles Anspaugh.

An added feature of the meeting Monday was the presentation of a Certificate of Service to Kiwanian Clarence Zerbel. The plaque was given by Mrs. Mae Frenn, chairman of the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and was in recognition of Zerbel's years of service in the field of education, Boy Scout work, club activities, and other civic projects.

FROZEN TREES FALLING
FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—A freeze in the winter of 1962 is making travel risky these days along Kings Highway, a Fort Pierce area feeder road for the Sunshine State Parkway turnpike.

Residents have complained that towering pine trees, killed by frost, have begun toppling across the road. Half a dozen already have crashed to earth, damaging two automobiles but causing no injuries.

The other dead trees still stand, awaiting a strong wind or settlement of responsibility for removing them.

Allan Sherman TV Show Opens

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Strangest title for a series this season is NBC's "Sneak Preview," consisting of several variety specials. The second one reached television screens Monday night with the accompaniment of the network's loudest promotional drums.

It was Allan Sherman's "Fun-nyland," another title which seems strange if only because it challenges the viewer to find the show amusing. However, it was a bright and often witty hour, mostly because of the gentle satire of Sherman.

Sherman, star and executive producer of the show, recently jumped from comedy writer and television producer to performer and an engaging one he is. One of his greatest assets is that so far he has not acquired a slick professional style.

Sherman and his playmates lightly took apart a variety of subjects.

It was not all understated humor. With guest stars Lorne Greene, Angie Dickinson and Jack Gilford, he played a musical alphabet game which, at one low moment had Greene demanding that Sherman sing a song starting with the letters S, V, and F.

"S, V, F no bananas," warbled the star.

All together, though, it was several cuts above the average television variety show.

Earlier in the evening CBS attempted to stir up extra interest in its two back-to-back panel shows "To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret," by switching the panels.

Both panels functioned efficiently and amusingly like the

Small Business Group Requests Security Reform

As long as Social Security penalizes no senior citizen who has money working for him, there should be no penalty for those who have their hands or minds working for them.

This appears to be the sentiment generated by an increasing public debate over medical care through the Social Security System. A greater public awareness of inequities in the present operation of Social Security is revealed by surveys conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business.

In a special field survey conducted all during 1964, 60 per cent of 68,249 independent U. S. business proprietors voted in favor of abolishing the present rule that places a limit on the amount a senior citizen can earn in employment without losing the Social Security benefits. Of this total 27 per cent oppose such a move, with the rest undecided.

When the bill introduced by former Rep. Catherine St. George was presented in 1963 to abolish this restriction, the entire membership favored such legislation by a majority of 57 per cent.
